

Smart Scheduling

Subpoena Management

Using manual processes to deliver court notices to officers is time-consuming and costly. Using a centralized solution like Workforce Management PLUS that coordinates court notifications with officer's schedules saves time, increases attendance accountability, and decreases overtime for unnecessary court appearances.

Decrease Court Admin Time and Cost

With Workforce Management PLUS, court notifications can be data entered using the companion CourtNotify application or received via the solution's API from external case management systems. Notifications include each case's logistical, defendant, and offense details, as well as whether to appear, standby or disregard a previous notice.

Receive Real-Time Court Notices

Officers receive notifications via their PLUS account, agency email, or by using the companion mobile app on iOS or Android devices. Embedded acknowledgment links enable quick time/date stamped receipt verification for reporting and auditing purposes. Court events are displayed on officers' home screens, calendars, and shift rosters. Scheduling conflicts are flagged with the ability to submit continuation requests to supervisors.

Increase Attendance Accountability

Automatic email notification reminders are sent to officers that fail to acknowledge their notice receipt after defined time periods. Email reminders can also be sent to officers days before scheduled events. Supervisors and court liaisons can view officers' past, current, and future notifications based on multiple search filters. What's more, they can acknowledge notifications on behalf of officers when unique circumstances occur.

AttendanceTRKR is an add-on solution designed to track officers' court attendance times and event results. Policy rules can be applied to ensure that officers are not checking in too early or remaining too long once events are completed. Saved attendance data can be submitted to payroll systems and used for analytical reporting.

Companion Mobile App enables officers to receive court notifications in real-time on Android and iOS devices. Mobile receipt confirmation acknowledgments are saved in the PLUS system and can be viewed by all agency users.
